

GIFT GUIDE

HISTORICAL FICTION

Drama, Historical Fantasy,
and lots of Cosy Mysteries
Discover new stories and new authors

JENNA BENNETT

BUY HERE

New York Times and USA Today bestselling author Jenna Bennett has written more than 50 books, most of them in the genres of mystery and suspense. For more information, please visit her website

Six months ago, the home of Henry, Duke of Sutherland, was destroyed by blackmail and murder.

That same weekend, Lydia Morrison—perhaps involved in the blackmail—received a late-night phone call and disappeared without a trace.

Miss Philippa Darling and her friend, the Honorable Constance Peckham, have spent the last six months looking for Morrison. And during another weekend at Sutherland Hall, they get a lead. Someone has seen Morrison on holiday in the Cotswolds.

The girls set off for Upper Slaughter, only to find that Morrison has been killed.

Meanwhile, in Little Sutherland, the constabulary receives an anonymous note accusing Pippa of the crime.

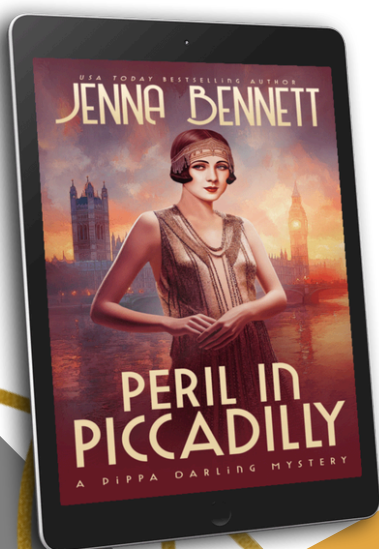

With an imminent arrest hanging over her head, can Pippa prove she didn't do it, and more, figure out who did, before the murderer decides to do away with her, too?

JENNA BENNETT

Follow along with Bright Young Thing Philippa Darling, her cousin Christopher, and Christopher's cousin Crispin, Viscount St George, as they solve mysteries and sniff out family secrets in 1926 England.

BUY HERE

BUY HERE

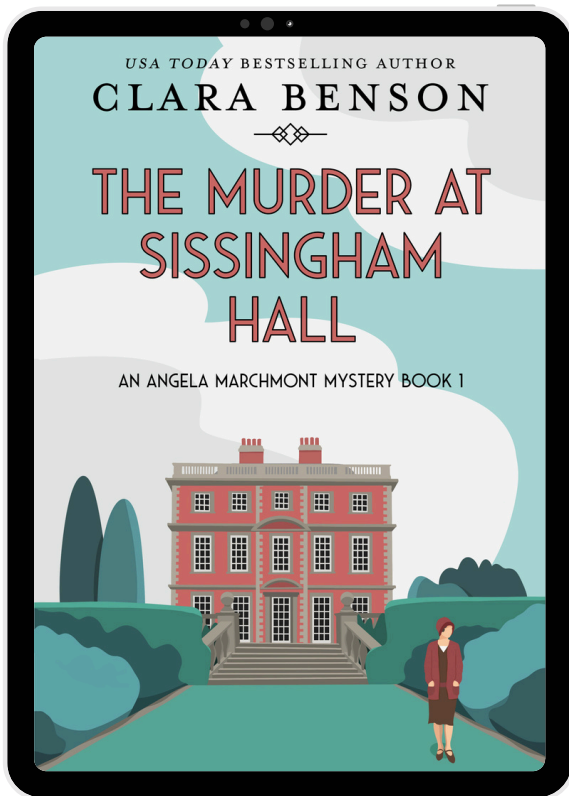

Someone seems to be targeting Pippa Darling—or maybe not.

After a suspicious tumble in the underground and a cab that nearly runs her and her flatmate Christopher down, it's hard to tell who the real target is.

Was it Pippa? Christopher (disguised as his alter ego, Kitty Dupree)? Or perhaps Lady Laetitia Marsden, who looks a bit too much like Kitty in drag?

When a stolen engagement ring and a family scandal enter the picture, the mystery deepens. Everyone has enemies, and no one is quite sure who's in danger—or why.

CLARA BENSON

BUY HERE

Clara Benson is the author of the Angela Marchmont Mysteries and Freddy Pilkington-Soames Adventures - traditional English whodunits in authentic style set in the 1920s and 30s. One day she would like to drink cocktails and solve mysteries in a sequined dress and evening gloves. In the meantime she lives in the north of England with her family and doesn't do any of those things.

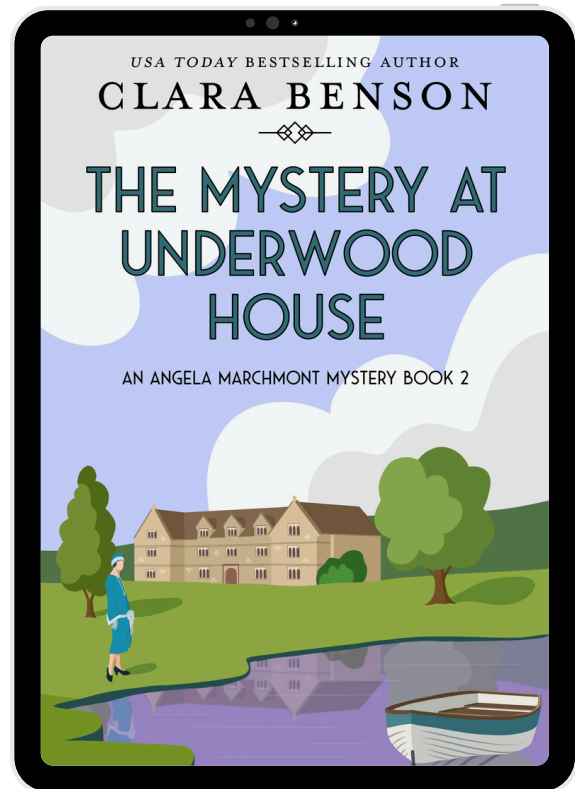

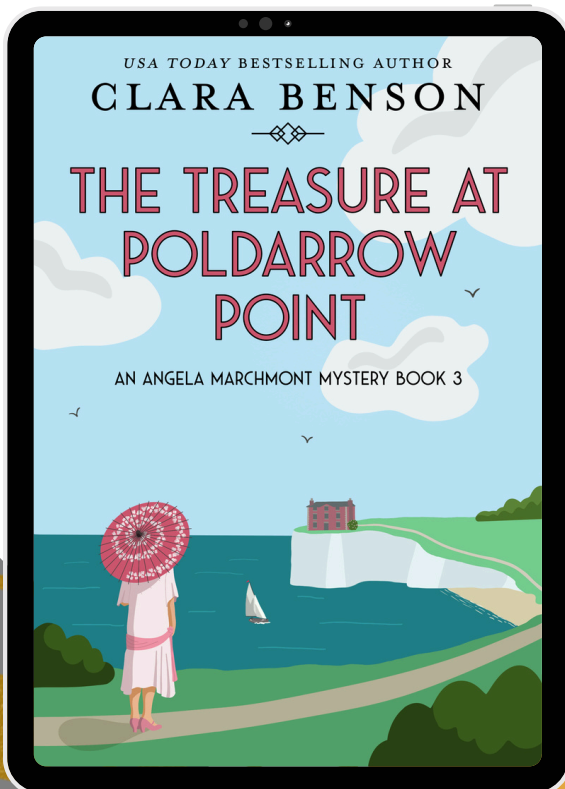

"It's absolutely delightful, and I would recommend it to anyone who's a fan of Sarah Caudwell, or Agatha Christie, or anyone who loves really clever British murder mysteries set in the '20s." - Gillian Flynn, international bestselling author of Gone Girl.

On his return from South Africa, Charles Knox is invited to spend the weekend at the country home of Sir Neville Strickland, whose beautiful wife Rosamund was once Knox's fiancée. But in the dead of night Sir Neville is murdered. Who did it? As suspicion falls on each of the house guests in turn, Knox finds himself faced with deception and betrayal on all sides, and only the enigmatic Angela Marchmont seems to offer a solution to the mystery. This 1920s whodunit will delight all fans of traditional country house murder stories.

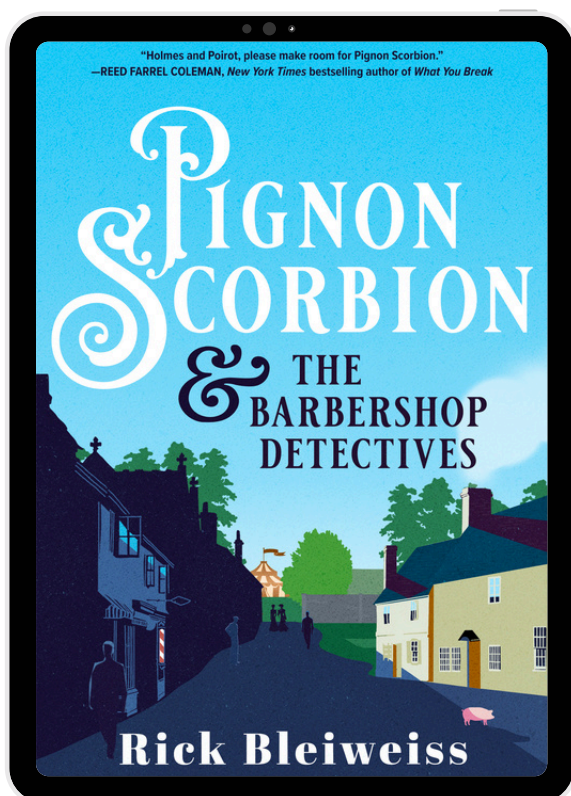

CLARA BENSON

Old Philip Haynes was never happier than when his family were at each other's throats. Even after his death the terms of his will ensured they would keep on feuding. But now three people are dead and the accusations are flying. Can there really be a murderer in the family? Torn between friendship and duty, Angela Marchmont must find out the truth before the killer can strike again.

BUY HEREBUY HERE

When Angela Marchmont goes to Cornwall on doctor's orders she is looking forward to a nice rest and nothing more exciting than a little sea-bathing. But her plans for a quiet holiday are dashed when she is caught up in the hunt for a diamond necklace which, according to legend, has been hidden in the old smugglers' house at Poldarrow Point for over a century. Angela must use all her powers of deduction to solve the case and find the necklace—before someone else does.

RICK BLEIWEISS

BUY HERE

The year is 1910 and in the small and seemingly sleepy English municipality of Haxford, there's a new Chief Police Inspector. At first, the dapper and unflappable Pignon Scorbion strikes something of an odd figure among the locals, who don't see a need for such an exacting investigator. But it isn't long before Haxford finds itself very much in need of a detective. Luckily, Scorbion and the local barber are old acquaintances, and the barbershop employs a cast of memorable characters who – together with an aspiring young ace reporter for the local Morning News – are nothing less than enthralled by the enigmatic new Chief Police Inspector. Investigating a trio of crimes whose origins span three continents and half a century, Pignon Scorbion and his “tonsorial sleuths” interview a parade of interested parties, but with every apparent clue, new surprises come to light. And just as it seems nothing can derail Scorbion's cool head and almost unerring nose for deduction, in walks Thelma Smith – dazzling, whip-smart, and newly single. Has Pignon Scorbion finally met his match?

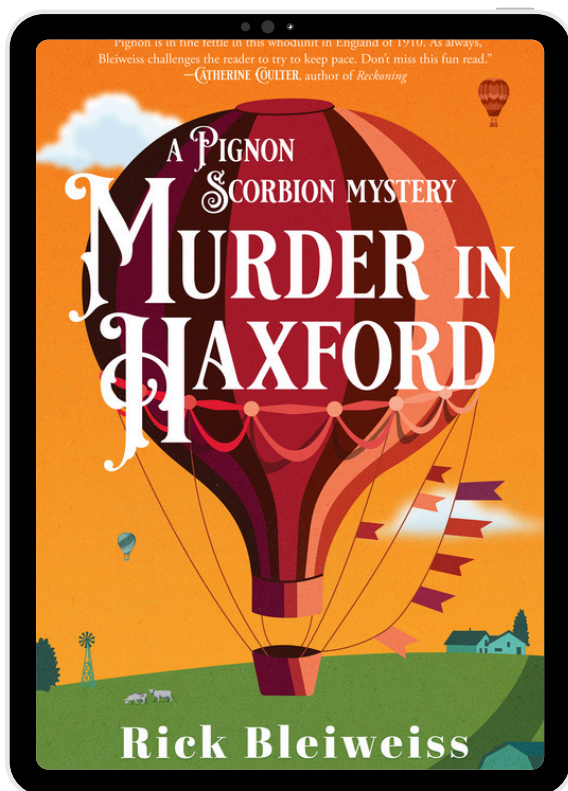

RICK BLEIWEISS is a multi-award-winning novelist and Head of New Business Development for Blackstone Publishing.

His novels, Pignon Scorbion & The Barbershop Detectives and Murder in Haxford have won multiple national and international awards (including the PNBA's Buzz Book of the Year and four International Impact Book Awards) and have been #1 best-sellers on Amazon.

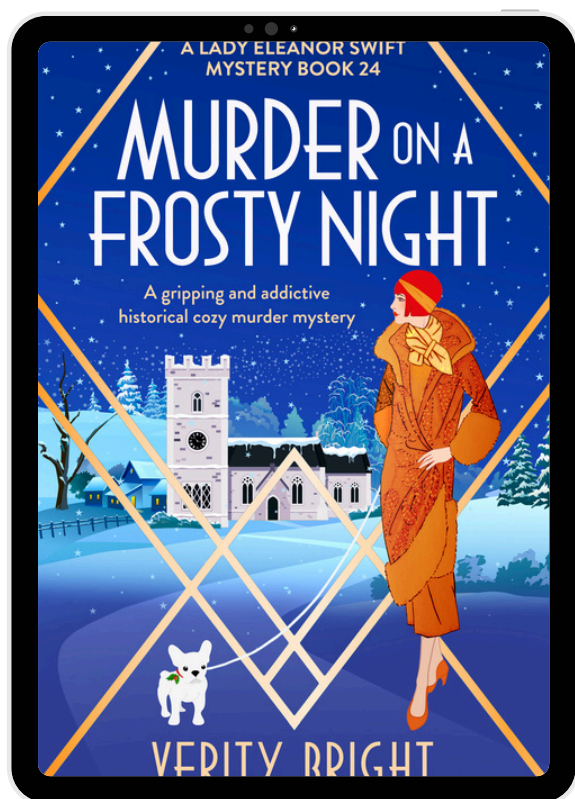

RICK BLEIWEISS

BUY HERE

A delightful day in 1910 at the Haxford Spring Fair turns horrifying and deadly when a balloonist plummets to the earth from the blue skies above. However unlikely, it's soon discovered that this unfortunate corpse was not done in by his precipitous plunge but instead from an arrow fatally lodged in his chest. Unraveling the twisted web of intrigue that took the man's life requires the expert skills of Haxford's brilliant and sartorially splendid Chief Inspector Pignon Scorbion. But the quirky detective is not alone in this task. Aiding Scorbion in his dogged pursuit of truth and justice are his carefully chosen deputies: six quirky and unconventional thinkers from the town who meet regularly with Scorbion in Calvin Brown's barbershop to unmask ne'er-do-wells and solve local crimes. Since his move to the charming village, the enigmatic detective has also realized his growing dependence upon its bookshop's owner. Lovely and quick-witted Thelma Smith not only helps Pignon with his criminal cases, but she seems well on her way to unlocking the mysteries of his heart. Not everyone in Haxford is so cooperative. Faustin Hardcastle from the Gazette is bound and determined to ruin the town's new officer of the law with slanderous news reports of failure and misconduct. And other residents of the picture-perfect village do not welcome the inspector's inquiring eye and expert nose for trouble. When they engage in decidedly unquaint activities like gambling, revenge, forgery, and loan sharking, it falls to Pignon Scorbion to reveal their deceit and criminal misdeeds—all in a good day's work. Once done, he and Thelma can then thoroughly enjoy a delicious dinner at the Bridgehouse Inn.

VERITY BRIGHT

BUY HERE

Verity Bright is the pseudonym for a husband and wife writing partnership that has spanned a quarter of a century. Their Best Selling Lady Swift Mystery series is set in the 1920s England. If you enjoy witty dialogue, glamorous intrigue and the very best of Golden Age mysteries, then you will adore Verity Bright's unputdownable whodunnits, perfect for fans of Agatha Christie, and Downton Abbey!

Winter 1925. Eleanor and Hugh are decking the halls for their first married Christmas together when butler Clifford arrives with a mysterious telegram. A lucrative case awaits their new detective agency... but in the most remote county in England. The note insists they must be there by midnight to accept the job.

After a snowy journey, they arrive at the tiny hamlet of Yorelow to find their client, Osmund Unwin, dead in the churchyard as midnight mass ends. They realise they are now in the absurd situation of having to solve the murder of their client – who they never met – to solve a case they know nothing about and officially never accepted! There is very little festive goodwill to go around, as it seems half the village had a grudge against the rich man.

When another body is found in the ruins of the castle overlooking the town, Eleanor is baffled. Clearly there's more to this nightmare before Christmas than the gang first thought.

VERITY BRIGHT

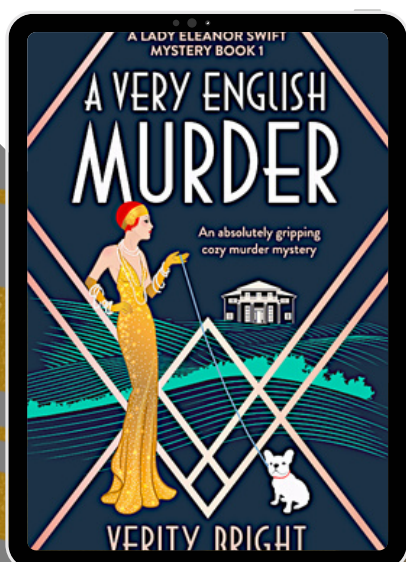

Lady Eleanor Swift is at Buckingham Palace to see her new husband, Detective Chief Inspector Seldon, knighted. But the happy day is overshadowed when Dilly Dalrymple, a royal guard, collapses. The head of the royal police asks Eleanor and Hugh to investigate the murder – unofficially. This is her first clue that there's more to the story...

Donning a disguise as a journalist for a well-to-do magazine, Eleanor, with butler Clifford posing as her photographer interview the high-profile guests and residents at the palace. She wasn't expecting gossiping wives, affairs aplenty and talk of long-lost treasure! Was Dilly killed to settle an old score or was he perhaps a little too close to someone else's wife?

But when another soldier is murdered at midnight, hours after the palace gates are locked, Eleanor knows she needs to keep her wits about her... And when everyone seems to have a reason to lie, can Eleanor dig up the truth before it's her head next?

BUY HERE

England, 1920. Eleanor Swift has spent the last few years travelling the world. She reluctantly returns to her uncle's home, Henley Hall, now her property.

What's a girl to do? Well, befriend the household dog, Gladstone, for a start, and head straight out for a walk in the English countryside, even though a storm is brewing... But then, through the driving rain, Eleanor is shocked to see a man shot and killed in the distance. Before she can climb down to the spot, the villain is gone and the body has vanished. With no victim and the local police convinced she's stirring up trouble, Eleanor vows to solve this affair by herself.

BUY HERE

KAREN J. CARLISLE

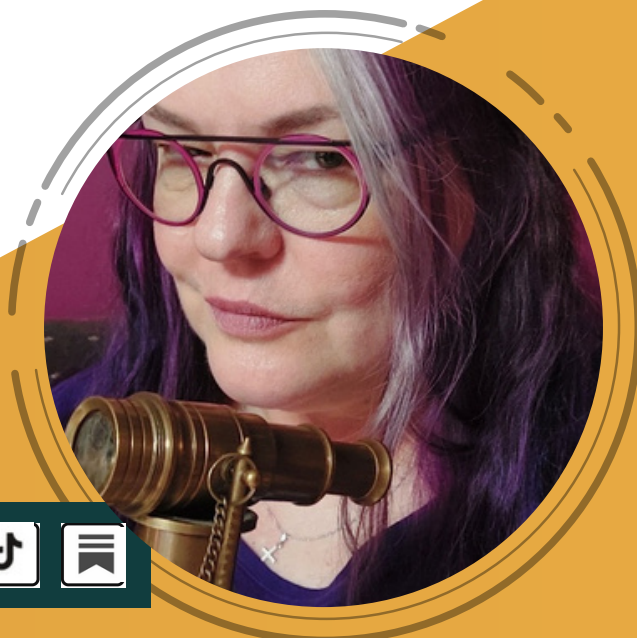

BUY HERE

Aunt Enid's back, but something's changed... A deal with fairies...to solve a mystery...and prevent a war. Fairies and magic: It's all real! Enid Turner is invited to a picnic in honour of the creator of the world's most famous detective, currently on a lecture tour in Adelaide, where they are caught in a web of treachery and betrayal from the Otherworlds. It's up to Aunt Enid and the Protectors, with a little help from the self-appointed Fairy Hunter, to solve the mystery, return the kidnapped heir and save the humans from Otherworldly retribution. It's now a race to save the Earth from becoming a battleground for a magical war. A Fey Tale is a murder mystery set in 1920 Adelaide, with an older female MC, hidden magic, character origin stories, and a troll bounty hunter under a bridge. Book 2 (prequel) in The Aunt Enid Mysteries.

Karen J Carlisle is a creator of Victorian mysteries, steampunk, fantasy, and cosy(ish) mysteries with a fantasy twist. She can often be found plotting fantastical, piratical or airship adventures, or co-writing the occasional musical ditty, but is always drawn back to fantasy and mystery. Karen has always loved dark chocolate and rarely refuses a cup of tea. She is not keen on South Australian summers.

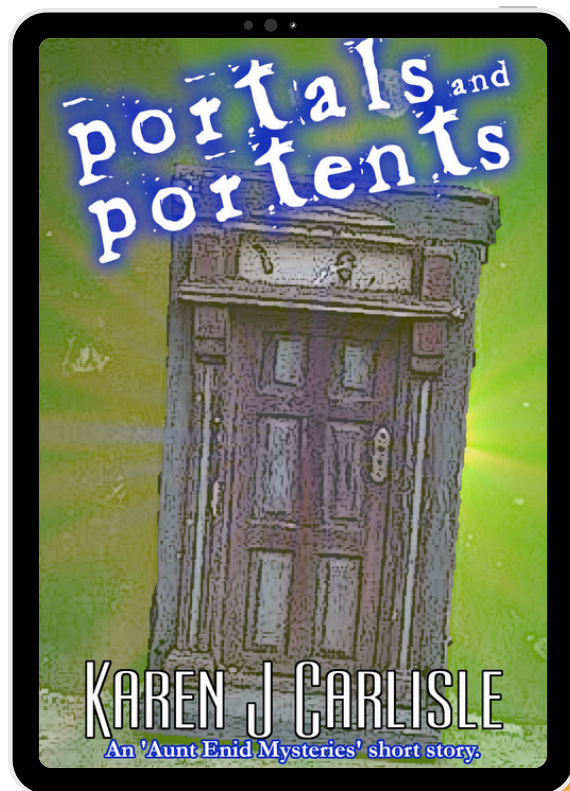

KAREN J. CARLISLE

Ever wonder how certain characters found their way into an adventure? Portals and Portents is set before A Fey Tale, and is a short Aunt Enid Mysteries tale of how one such character, Miss Kel Caimanos, met the Shoemaker.

Portals and Portents is set in 1910 Adelaide, with hidden magic, and features the fairy doors found on buildings in Adelaide CBD. The story is set before we meet our three Protectors, and is the origin story for a secondary character in A Fey Tale.

The main character was named by the winner of Author for Fireys 'auction', which raised money to support the Fireys (Aussie slang for firefighters), families, and small businesses who had lost everything in the South Australian fires of 2020. The Aunt Enid Mysteries is set (mostly) in the Adelaide Hills, not far from the Cudlee Creek fires. Fires also devastated more than a third of Kangaroo Island, destroying homes, lives, and wildlife (including precious bees). Portals and Portents is now available as a free eBook (exclusive to newsletter subscribers and Patreon supporters), when signing up to the author's newsletter Tea & Tidings.

The Aunt Enid Mysteries

READ IT FREE

SYLVIA COLLINS

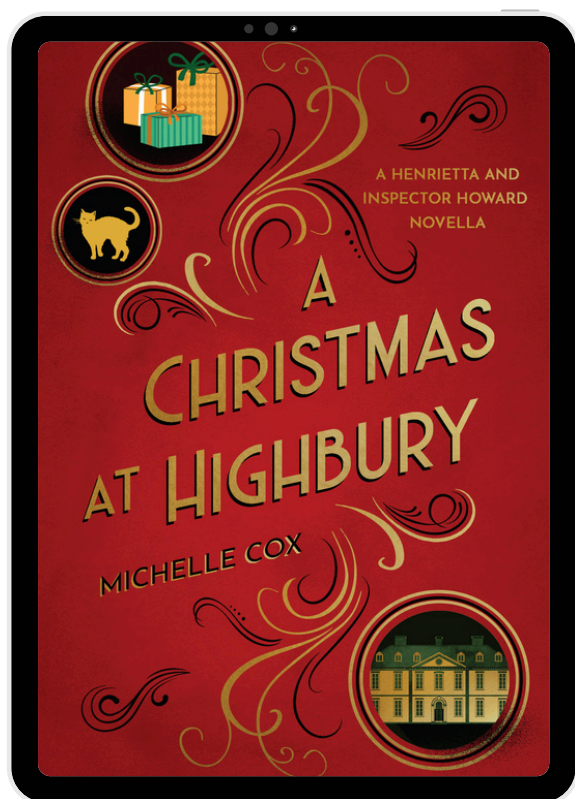

England, 1919. On the run from a deadly ambush, Sir Augustus Beck seeks refuge at his estranged sister's home. But Beck House is no safe haven—it conceals hidden passages, whispered betrayals, and long-buried secrets. Together, they must fend off ruthless attackers and unravel a threat to national security. Historical mysteries where Downton Abbey meets Charlie's Angels

READ IT FREE

She writes historical mysteries set in post-WWI Dorset, inspired by family history. Her stories weave together hidden dangers, buried secrets, and the resilience of women in the shadow of war.

MICHELLE COX

READ IT FREE

Michelle Cox is the author of the award-winning Henrietta and Inspector Howard series, the Merriweather series (Jane Austen in Wisconsin), and a standalone historical novel The Fallen Woman's Daughter. She writes intriguing historical fiction full of suspense, romance, and a touch of charm.

Clive and Henrietta (and baby, Teddy!) return to Highbury to spend Christmas with the family. Clive's mother, Antonia, schemes to increase her social standing at her club by introducing the pair during the annual Christmas ball as the newly minted Lord and Lady Linley. Her plans go awry, however, when the club's collection of gifts for the poor mysteriously goes missing. Henrietta and Clive are reluctantly drawn into the case, though Clive suspects it is nothing more than a silly prank.

But when it is discovered that a young woman from the club is likewise missing a valuable necklace, the detective duo begins to wonder if the two incidents are connected. With every clue revealed, it seems more and more likely that one of the club's most stalwart members may be involved. In order to get the gifts delivered to the neediest of the community on time, Henrietta and Clive race to unravel the mystery before Christmas day dawns . . .

MICHELLE COX

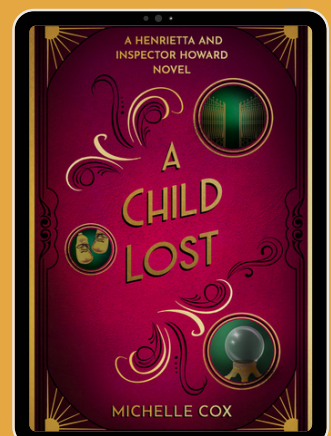

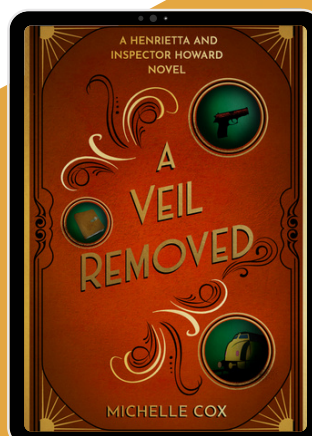

The Henrietta & Inspector Howard Series

Set during the oft-forgotten interwar years of the 1930s, The Henrietta & Inspector Howard Series follows spirited Henrietta Von Harmon and Inspector Clive Howard from a chance investigation in the grimy streets of 1930s Chicago to the glittering mansions of the North Shore—and beyond. Each case pulls them deeper into danger... and closer to each other.

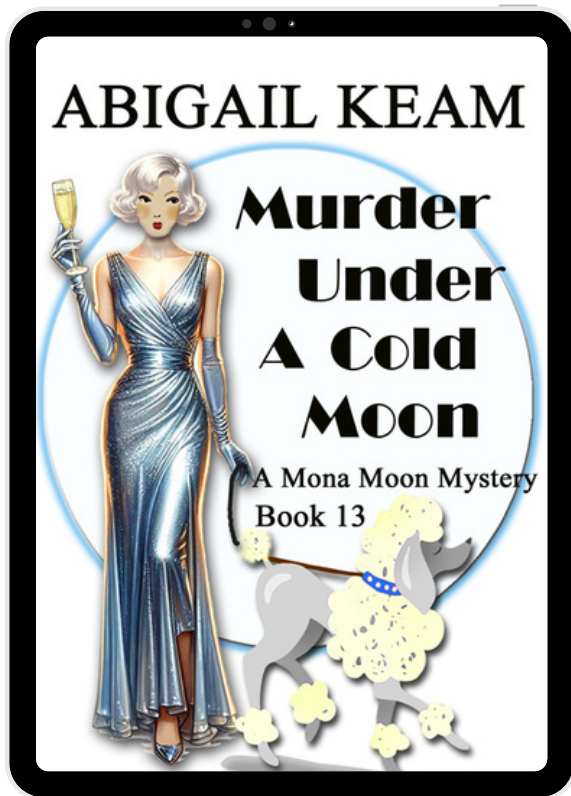

With a vivid ensemble cast, witty dialogue, and rich period detail, the series delivers the perfect escape for readers who love immersive character-driven historical fiction with a generous dollop of romantic mystery.

Start with A Girl Like You and binge through the complete saga!

LEARN MORE

ABIGAIL KEAM

Mona Moon and her new husband, Robert Farley, Duke of Brynelleth are on their honeymoon at last. They are invited to a weekend party by an old friend of Robert's family—Lady Eustacia. Mona and Robert arrive in a substantial downpour to find several other couples awaiting the appearance of their hostess.

When Lady Eustacia fails to come downstairs, Mona and Robert search the manor house only to find the lady. It is then they discover the telephone wires have been cut and none of the cars are able to drive into town due to the storm. Mona and Robert believe the invitation was a ruse, but for what purpose? And how do they help Lady Eustacia?

BUY HERE

Award-winning and international best-selling author Abigail Keam writes the Mona Moon Mystery Series—a rags-to-riches 1930s mystery series, which weaves real people and events into the story. “I am a student of history. My goal is to entertain my readers, but if they learn a little history along the way—well, then we are both happy.” Miss Abigail currently lives on the Palisades Cliffs bordering the Kentucky River in a metal house with her husband and various critters.

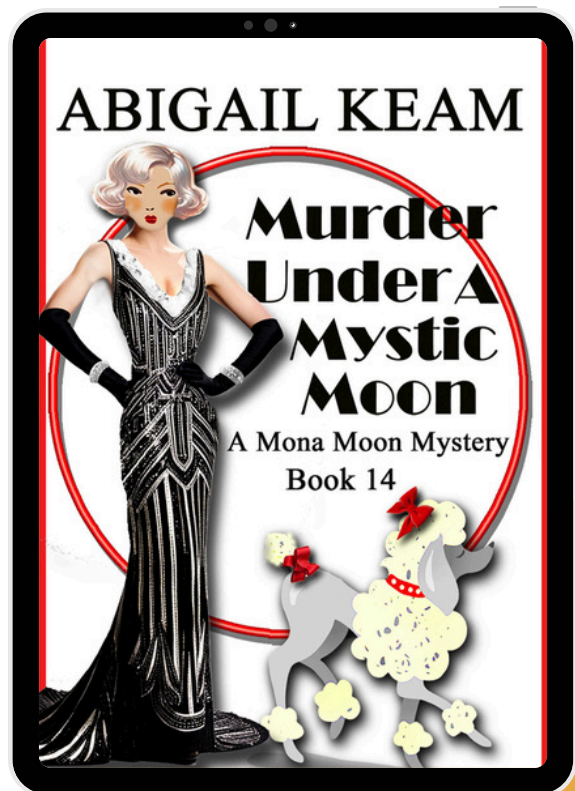

ABIGAIL KEAM

The 1930s Mona Moon Mystery Series

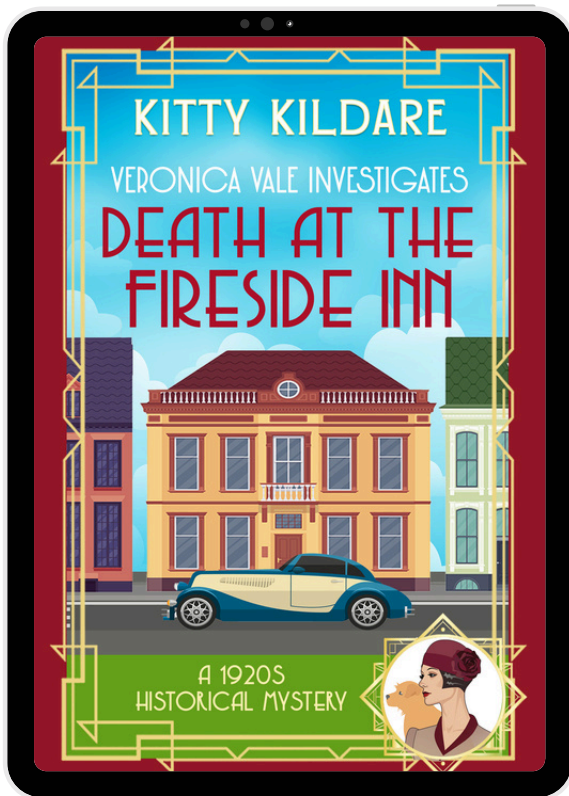

High society sleuth Mona Moon and her husband, Robert Farley, Duke of Brynelleth, are on the last leg of their honeymoon. They are island hopping in the sunny Mediterranean Sea, sightseeing all the ancient archaeological ruins before returning home to Mooncrest Farm in Kentucky. They find it odd that they keep running into old friends like Agatha Christie and associates along their trip. A sixth sense is telling Mona that danger is slowly closing in, but she has no idea how it will manifest itself. Will Mona's dream honeymoon turn into a nightmare?

BUY HERE

KITTY KILDARE

When murder strikes London's glittering theatre world, spirited obituary writer Veronica Vale refuses to let a killer escape. Armed with razor-sharp wit and her loyal companions Ruby and Benji the dog, she plunges into a deadly hunt for justice. But the shocking secrets she uncovers could destroy everything she holds dear.

BUY HERE

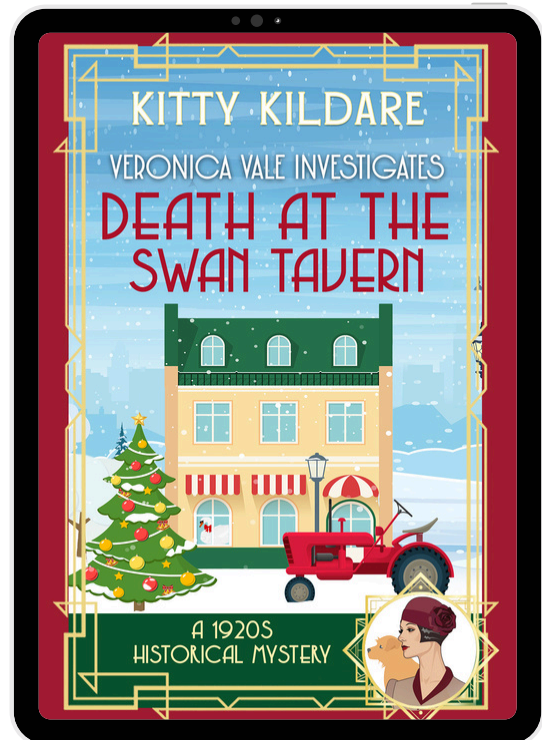

Immerse yourself in Kitty Kildare's cleverly woven historical British mysteries. Follow the mystery in the Veronica Vale Investigates series and enjoy the dazzle and delights of 1920s England.

KITTY KILDARE

When a charismatic newcomer dies during a Christmas gathering at the Swan Tavern, everyone calls it a tragic accident. But Veronica suspects murder. As snow blankets London and secrets emerge among the guests, Veronica and Ruby discover they're celebrating Christmas with a killer!

BUY HERE

BUY HERE

When a wedding planner is found dead in a locked room in Craigmoor Castle, Veronica's celebratory weekend becomes a deadly trap. With blizzards sealing the roads, the wedding party is trapped with a murderer. As paranoia spreads, Veronica must solve this mystery before the killer strikes again.

CELIA LAKE

READ HERE

Celia Lake writes stories of the magical community of Britain between the 1850s and the 1940s, with many books set in the 1920s. Born and raised in Massachusetts to British parents, she naturally embraced British spelling, classic mysteries, and the Oxford comma before she learned there were any other options. By day, she is a research librarian in the Boston MA area, often being sat on by her cat.

Geoffrey Carillon has spent much of his life both before and after the Great War travelling the world.

In February of 1922, his older brother's sudden and unexpected death calls him back to Albion to take up his ancestral obligations to the land magic. Naturally, Carillon relies heavily on his loyal and exceedingly competent valet, Benton.

Carillon discovers that much has changed in his time away, and he desperately needs allies to help him navigate the world as it is now. Benton, for his part, is focused on bringing the estate into better working order, in a number of ways he expected and quite a few he did not.

Ancient Trust is a free novella prequel of 40,000 exploring Carillon's return to England and what he finds after his brother's death. Carillon's romance can be found in Goblin Fruit and Benton's in On The Bias.

CELIA LAKE

Vega is a singer.

Hard work and talent have brought her to a long-term contract at London's best magical night club. There's plenty to keep her busy: new music, reading the mood of the audience that night, and exploring the city. When her family asks for her help, she thinks they need an archaeologist instead.

Farran loves art in all its forms.

As he nears the end of his apprenticeship with one of Albion's magical auction houses, he needs to decide what to do next with his career. After taking a short-term assignment in London, Farran wants to help Vega. The question is how.

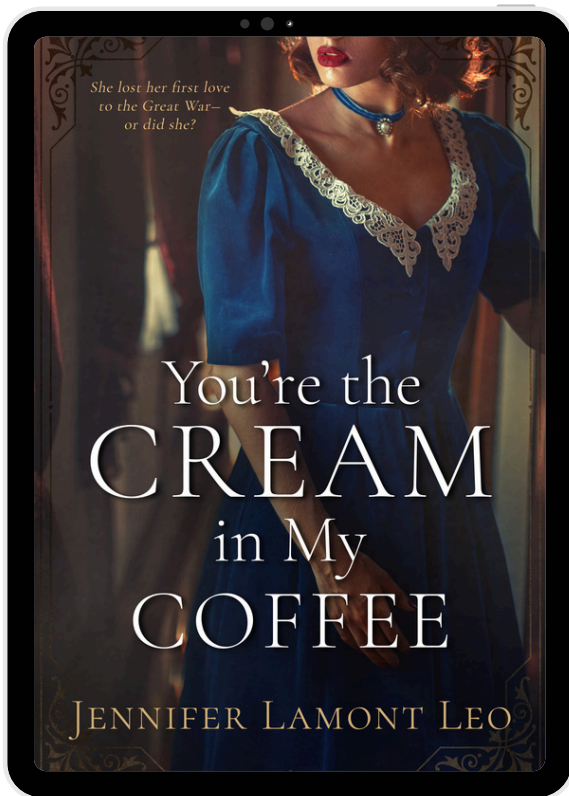

Together, they explore the magic of London in all its forms and the songs of its history. Their explorations take them from the Guildhall and Tower of London into hidden spots underground. Along the way, Vega has to decide which of her secrets to reveal, and whether Farran will understand what she loves.

BUY HERE

Harmonic Pleasure is full of music, London's many-faceted history, and varied forms of magic. Set in 1928, join Farran and Vega as they navigate what loving their families and homes mean as they live their lives. Harmonic Pleasure can be read in any order and is an excellent introduction to Celia Lake's Albion books.

JENNIFER LAMONT LEO

BUY HERE

With a passion for all things historical, Jennifer Lamont Leo captures readers' hearts through stories set in times gone by. From the mountains of northern Idaho, she loves to write about her native Chicago, where much of The Corrigan Sisters Trilogy is set.

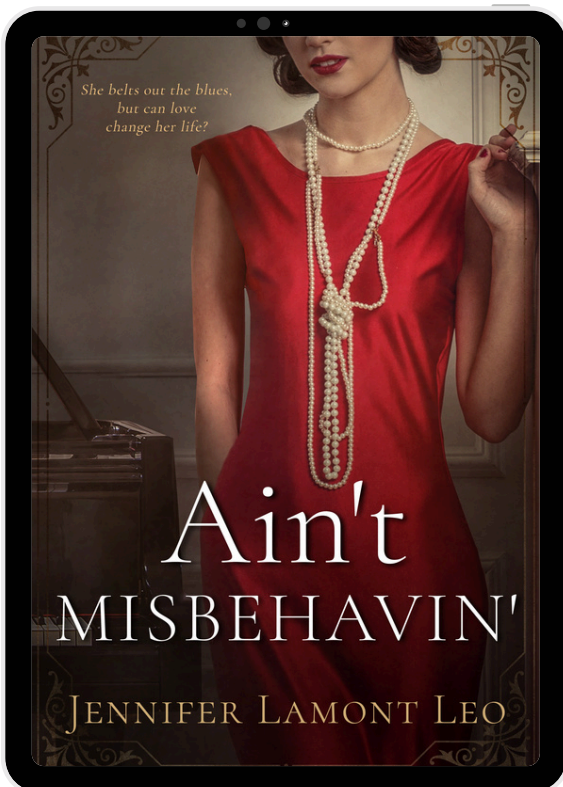

The Corrigan Sisters Series

In 1928 Chicago, small-town girl Marjorie Corrigan's orderly life is upended when she spots her supposedly dead high school sweetheart alive at a train station, leading her to move to the city and take a job to investigate the mystery. Torn between her safe engagement to a doctor back home and the alluring Jazz Age world of speakeasies and bobbed hair, Marjorie must choose between security and the intoxicating possibility of rediscovering lost love.

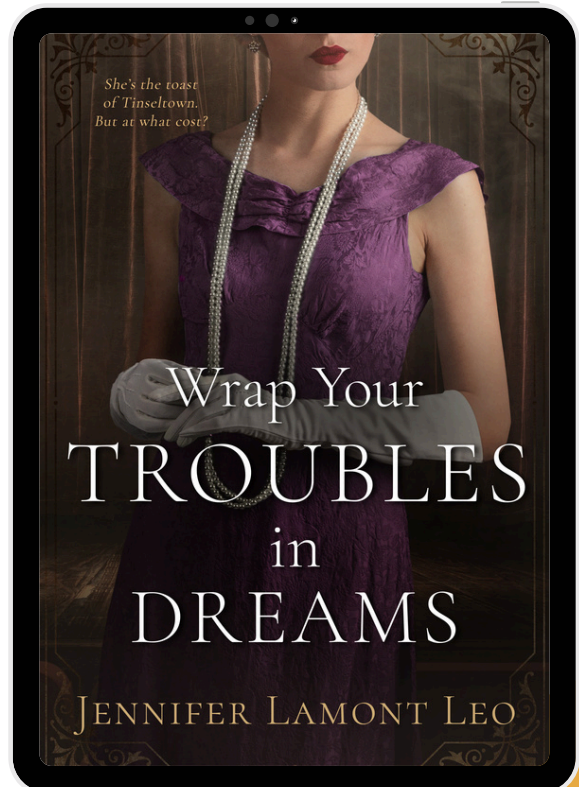

JENNIFER LAMONT LEO

In Jazz Age Chicago, flapper Dot Rodgers sells hats while pursuing her singing dreams, but beneath her party-girl exterior she doubts she deserves love from a good man. Small-town businessman Charlie Corrigan, scarred by the Great War and seeking to settle down, loves the glamorous Dot despite their different worlds, but their relationship faces the ultimate test when the stock market crashes.

BUY HERE

BUY HERE

In 1933 Hollywood, Helen Corrigan sells perfume while chasing her acting dreams, struggling to maintain her values amid the city's glittering but deceptive facade. When she meets screenwriter Rusty Noble, who shares her vision for uplifting films while being trapped writing B-movies and dealing with manipulative star Cynthia Starling, they find hope for both their careers and hearts on the Boulevard of Broken Dreams.

CHRYSTYNA LUCYK-BERGER

BUY HERE

Chrystyna Lucyk-Berger has written over 15 novels set in WW2, middle-grade fiction set during Ukraine's current conflict, and a saga about the Austrian-Italian conflict in the interwar period. Her Reschen Valley series is like Yellowstone, but set in northern Italy.

Box Set Season 1 includes:

No Man's Land: She wants her land. He wants control. The Fascists want both. When Katharina Thaler discovers an Italian war veteran stabbed and left to die on her South Tyrolean mountain, her decision to try and save him projects each of them into a labyrinth of corruption, prejudice and greed. Based on real events.

The Breach: As the Fascists gain momentum, and begin building dams on former Austrian territories, trouble begins brewing in the Grimani dynasty. Will Katharina's and Angelo's secrets be what ends the Tyrolean life in her valley?

The Smuggler of Reschen Pass: the prequel to the saga. Fritz Hanny's descent into madness is depicted in this novella; a story that explores the darker sides of passion, love, and loss.

CHRYSTYNA LUCYK-BERGER

Box Set Season 2 includes:

Bolzano: As trouble brews between the Third Reich and the rest of Europe, the Thalers and the Grimanis are thrown into new plots and conspiracies, and Katharina's valley is about to be the first victim.

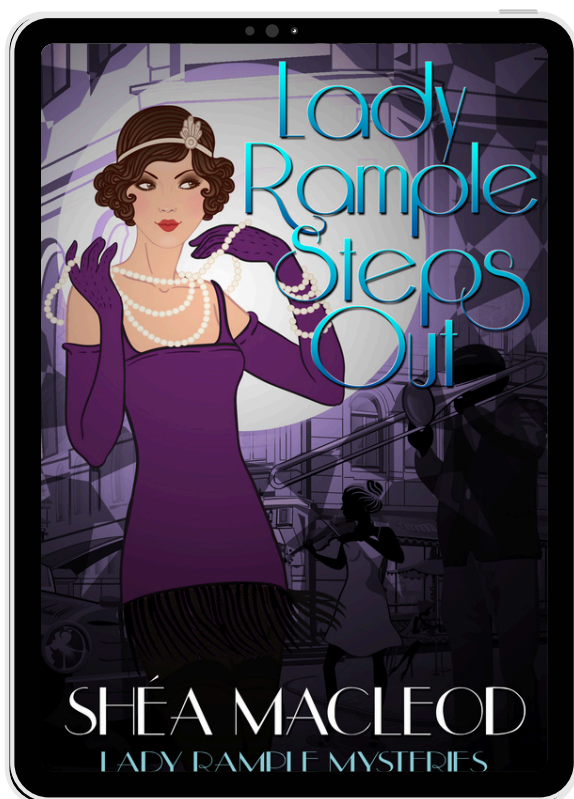

Two Fatherlands: It's not a good time to be a dissident. Torn between the country she once loved, and the one that wants to destroy everything she knows, Katharina seeks Angelo out for the first time in order to become allies and to finally prevent the worst imaginable, but is it too late?

BUY HERE

For links to individual titles, please visit the author's website
www.inktreks.com

SHÉA MACLEOD

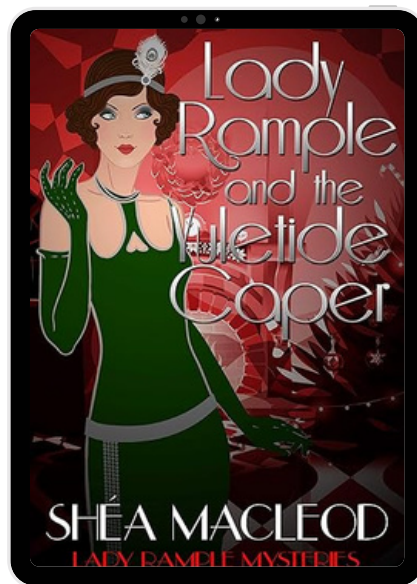

When Lady Rample steps out, murder steps in. Lady Rample finds herself at odds after the death of her husband until her best friend drags her to a hot new jazz club in the heart of London. As if being wooed by two handsome men isn't enough, Lady R finds herself embroiled in the murder of one of the club's owners. Bored with her aristocratic life and irked that the police have arrested the wrong suspect, Lady R decides to turn lady detective. With her eccentric Aunt Butty in tow, Lady R scours London for clues. If she's lucky she'll find the killer before the killer finds her. From the author of the Viola Roberts Cozy Mysteries comes the first book in the Lady Rample Mysteries set in jazz-era London.

READ IT FREE

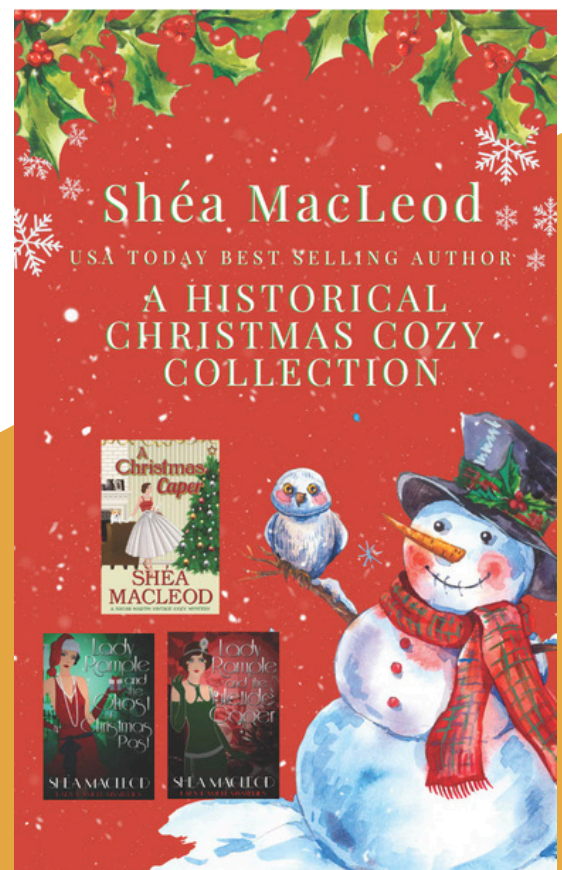

She lives in the rainforest of the Pacific Northwest where she fuels her writing habit with copious amounts coffee, wine, and chocolate.

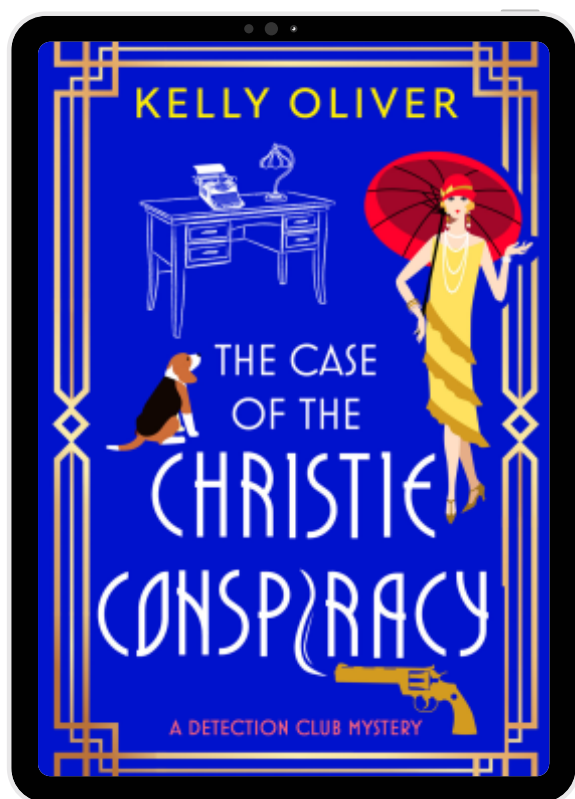

SHÉA MACLEOD

BUY HEREBUY HEREBUY HERE

When a charismatic newcomer dies during a Christmas gathering at the Swan Tavern, everyone calls it a tragic accident. But Veronica suspects murder. As snow blankets London and secrets emerge among the guests, Veronica and Ruby discover they're celebrating Christmas with a killer!

BUY HERE

KELLY OLIVER

BUY HERE

Kelly Oliver is the award-winning and bestselling author of four mystery series: The Jessica James Mysteries, The Pet Detective Mysteries, The Fiona Figg Mysteries, and The Detection Club Mysteries. Kelly is Past President of Sisters in Crime National, current Education Coordinator for SinC Guppies, and a Distinguished Emerita Professor of Philosophy at Vanderbilt University.

Agatha Christie is about to embark on a new, gripping murder case. But this time, she's not the author – she's a suspect...

1926 – Christie is a darling of the literary circuit and the most desired guest in London's glittering social scene. She can often be found at meetings of the Detection Club – where mystery writers come together to share ideas, swap secrets and drink copiously. But then a fellow author's initiation ceremony takes a gruesome turn, and one of the group ends up dead. Now, Agatha is no longer just the creator of great mystery plots – she's a player in one. And when Agatha disappears the day after the murder, she's widely assumed to be guilty. Only Eliza Baker, assistant to the Club's enigmatic secretary, Dorothy Sayers, is interested in investigating the case. But in a world where murder is the ultimate plot device, can Eliza piece together the evidence and find the killer before it's too late?

KELLY OLIVER

Mystery in Manhattan

1917. New York.

Notorious spy, Fredrick Fredricks, has invited Fiona to Carnegie Hall to hear a famous soprano. It's an opportunity the War Office can't turn down. Fiona and Clifford are soon on their way, but not before Fiona is saddled with chaperon duties for Captain Hall's niece. Is Fiona a spy or a glorified babysitter?

From the minute Fiona meets the soprano aboard the RMS Adriatic it's treble on the high C's. And the trouble doesn't stop when they disembark. Soon Fiona is doing time with a group of suffragettes and investigating America's most impressive inventor Thomas Edison.

Revenge at Ravenswick

Desperate to get out of London and determined to help the war effort, Fiona Figg volunteers to go undercover.

It keeps her from thinking about Andrew, her philandering husband.

At Ravenswick Abbey a charming South African war correspondent has tongues wagging.

His friends say he's a crack huntsman. The War Office is convinced he's a traitor. Fiona thinks he's a pompous prig.

What sort of name is Fredrick Fredricks anyway?

Too bad Fiona doesn't own a Wolseley pith helmet.

At Ravenswick a murderer is on the prowl, and it's not just the big-game hunter who's ready to pounce.

START A SERIES FOR UNDER $2

LEARN MORE

CARMEN RADTKE

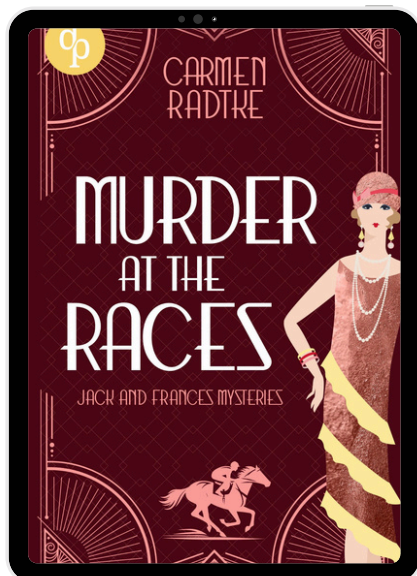

BUY HERE

Telephone switchboard operator Frances' life is difficult as sole provider for her mother and adopted uncle. But it's thrown into turmoil when she overhears a suspicious conversation on the phone, planning a murder. She decides to put it behind her, but it's not easy. Luckily there is the charming night club owner and war veteran, Jack. Jack's no angel - six pm prohibition is in force in Australia, and what's a nightclub without champagne? But when Frances' earlier fears resurface, she knows that he's the person to confide in. Frances and Jack's hunt for the truth puts them in grave danger, and soon enough Frances will learn that some things are a matter of love and death ...

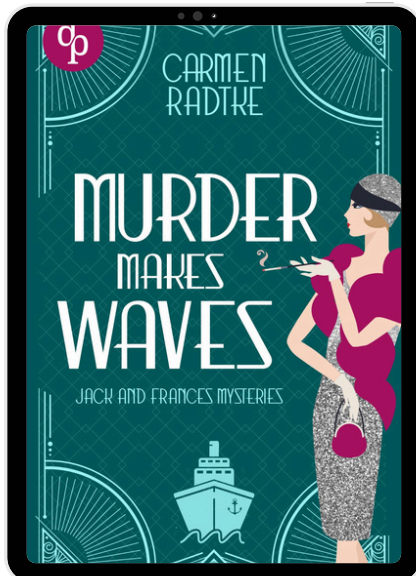

I Carmen has spent most of her life with ink on her fingers, cozy crime plots on her mind (thank you, Agatha Christie) and a dangerously high pile of books and newspapers by her side. She has worked as a newspaper reporter on two continents until she decided, fiction was more fun. In real life, Carmen is absolutely law-abiding, has never met a ghost or been able to communicate with pets (sad, but true). The only time she shed blood and swatted a fly was by accident.

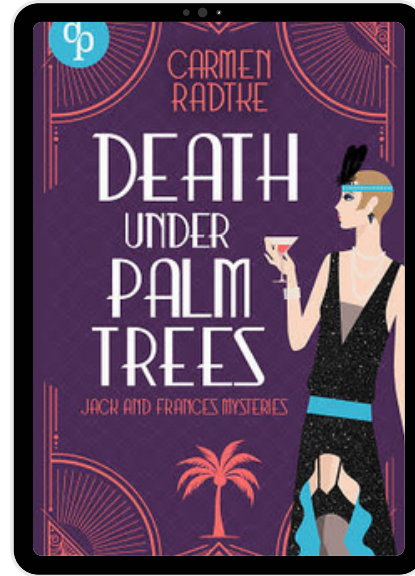

CARMEN RADTKE

BUY HERE

When Frances Palmer's brother becomes the only suspect in a chilling murder at the races, she and her boyfriend Jack, a charismatic night club owner, plus the quick-witted ex-vaudevillian Uncle Sal, must navigate a treacherous path. Their only hope lies in infiltrating the very heart of the racecourse to expose the true culprit

BUY HERE

The Empress of the Sea beckons Frances Palmer, her fiancé Jack Sullivan, and her uncle Sal for a dreamy voyage to England at Christmas time. Yet, under the glamour lies a brewing storm – jealousy and thievery threaten the ship's jovial air. As the waves grow tempestuous, Frances, Jack, and their eclectic allies, including the endearing corgi Tinkerbell, set sail into a sea of mystery. After a passenger's demise following a costume ball, the sleuthing trio dive into clandestine investigations. Will Frances, Jack, and their companions triumph against this treacherous tide of deception?

BUY HERE

Jack, Frances and Uncle Sal are supposed to be the guests of honour at a dazzling New Year's party in Nice. Instead, their hostess needs their discreet help to solve the theft of government documents before it becomes public. With all their plans awry, Frances swaps her evening gown for a maid's uniform, Jack poses as a chauffeur, and retired Vaudeville artist Uncle Sal intrigues the guests at the house party as a man of possibly nefarious mystery. Just when Jack and Frances think they've solved the theft, a death under palm trees raises the stakes.

AMY RENSHAW

Milwaukee, Wisconsin, May 1912: As the only female reporter at the Milwaukee Herald, twenty-two-year-old Sophie Strong is thrilled when she's invited to cover the party of the season. But when she discovers a murder victim and her friend Clara Elliot comes under suspicion, Sophie is determined to uncover the truth—even if she risks her own life along the way!

BUY HERE

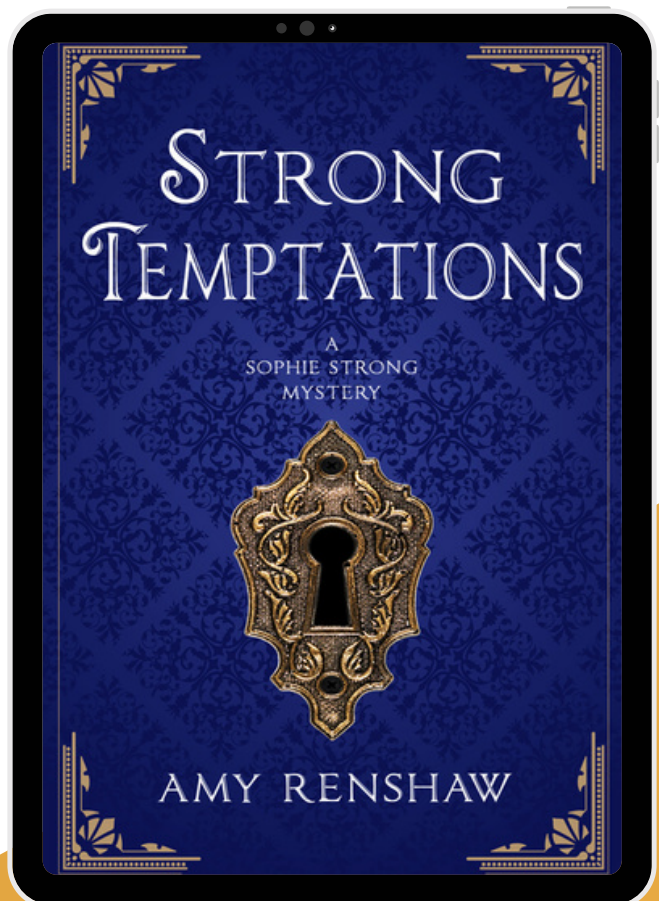

She fell in love with mysteries as a kid. She writes about strong, smart women who blaze new trails with courage and determination. The challenges they face in the early 20th century still inspire us today.

AMY RENSHAW

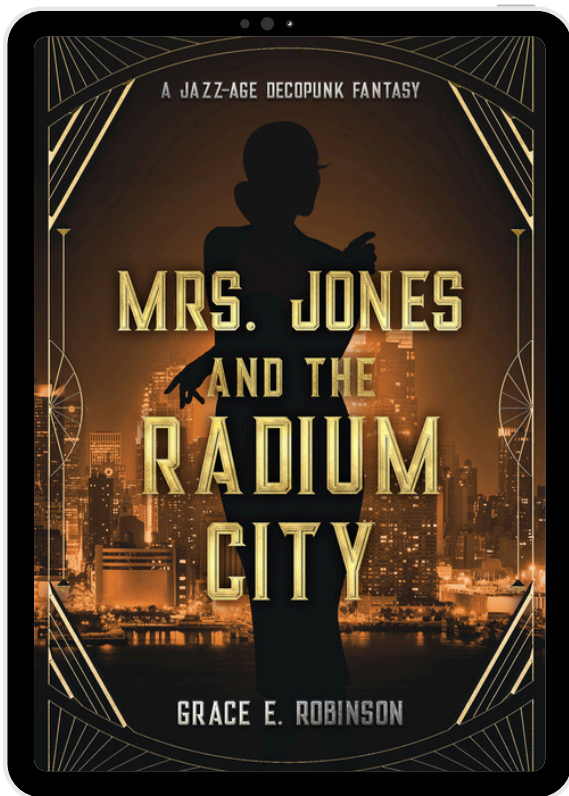

Sophie Strong Murder Mystery Series

In 1912 Milwaukee, Wisconsin, aspiring reporter Sophie Strong yearns for a thrilling undercover mission, but her cautious editor assigns her to the mundane role of a shopgirl. The job takes a sinister turn when a fellow employee meets a tragic end. Suddenly, Sophie and her coworkers are suspects. Detective Jacob Zimmer warns her to leave the pursuit of criminals to the professionals, but she can't resist plunging into the web of secrets and lies in the shadowy corners of a popular department store. Will she find the killer before she becomes a victim?

BUY HERE

GRACE E. ROBINSON

BUY HERE

In 1920s Los Angeles, Cornelia Jones moves in the top circles of society, thanks to her privileged upbringing and her marriage to the brilliant scientist and inventor, John Jones. But when John is critically injured in a laboratory accident, it's up to Cornelia to investigate what happened and bring the perpetrators to justice.

Good thing she knows magic.

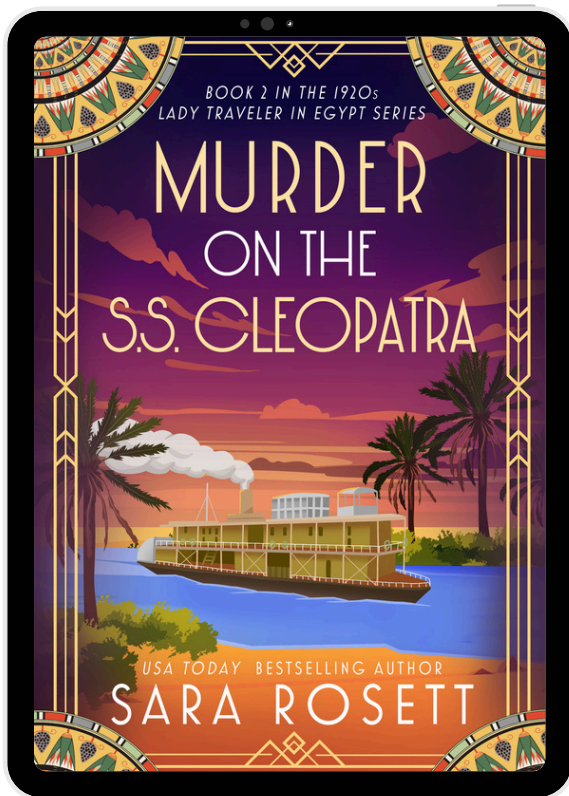

Aided by Adelaide, a young society debutante eager to learn the ways of both science and magic, Cornelia embarks on a journey to discover who's responsible for these nefarious deeds. But the deeper she dives into John's world, Cornelia realizes that evil is alive and well in this bright new age of progress. A secret organization moving in the shadows seems to have mysterious and sinister plans for her husband's altruistic creation.

Author and daydreamer, loves writing and finding joy in the little things in life. Lives in Idaho, surrounded by mountain views and a lot of books.

Fantasy & Folktales ~ Sci-Fi & Creativity ~
Nature & Whimsy

SARA ROSETT

BUY HERE

USA Today bestselling author Sara Rosett writes mystery novels that are the bee's knees with delightful settings and intriguing puzzles. A fan of Golden Age mysteries, Jane Austen adaptations, and Kdramas, she crafts stories that Publishers Weekly calls "enchanted" and "sparkling." Find out more on her website.

Join Blix Windway, an adventurous lady traveler, on a journey down the Nile in 1924. An eclectic mix of passengers boards the steamer, including a captain of industry, a former stunt-girl reporter turned lady of the manor, an archaeologist, an American teacher, a British doctor and his invalid wife, and a German photographer.

When a passenger is found dead, the elegant cruise turns into a floating crime scene. With everyone confined on board, tensions rise and secrets surface. Even Blix's traveling companion, Hildy Honeyworth, is behaving as if she has something to hide.

Set against the stunning backdrop of the Nile River and the ancient wonders of Egypt, this classic whodunit is the second book in the 1920s Lady Traveler in Egypt series from USA Today bestselling author Sara Rosett.

SARA ROSETT

Immerse yourself in the glamorous world of London's high society with the High Society Lady Detective series by USA Today bestselling author Sara Rosett. Follow the adventures of Olive Belgrave, a penniless aristocrat who takes on unconventional jobs as a lady detective to support herself. Each book takes Olive on a new adventure, from posh parties to country homes in the English countryside, as she solves perplexing mysteries. The tone is lighthearted and cozy, a perfect reading escape.

High Society Lady Detective

LEARN MORE

CASSIE RUSH

BUY HERE

Cassie Rush is a British author of cosy mysteries set in the English countryside and by the sea. A lifelong admirer of Agatha Christie and the Golden Age of detective fiction, she blends gentle humour, clever puzzles, and a dash of vintage style into every story. Her popular Eastwold by the Sea series draws inspiration from the real Suffolk coast, especially Southwold—though Cassie cheerfully rearranges its streets to suit her plots.

The Great War is over—so who's still shooting at Lady Gayle?

England, 1920. Recently widowed and world-weary, Lady Gayle Summer inherits the brooding Bethencourt Castle after her father's sudden death. Determined to leave her flapper days behind, she steps into her new role as lady of the manor—only to be greeted by gunfire after the funeral. When her friend Lady Sylvia vanishes during a quiet afternoon ride and the horse returns without her, Gayle's fresh start turns deadly. With the help of her sharp-eyed maid, Alice, she must uncover the truth before the killer strikes again.

Perfect for fans of 1920s intrigue, Downton Abbey glamour, and clever amateur sleuths.

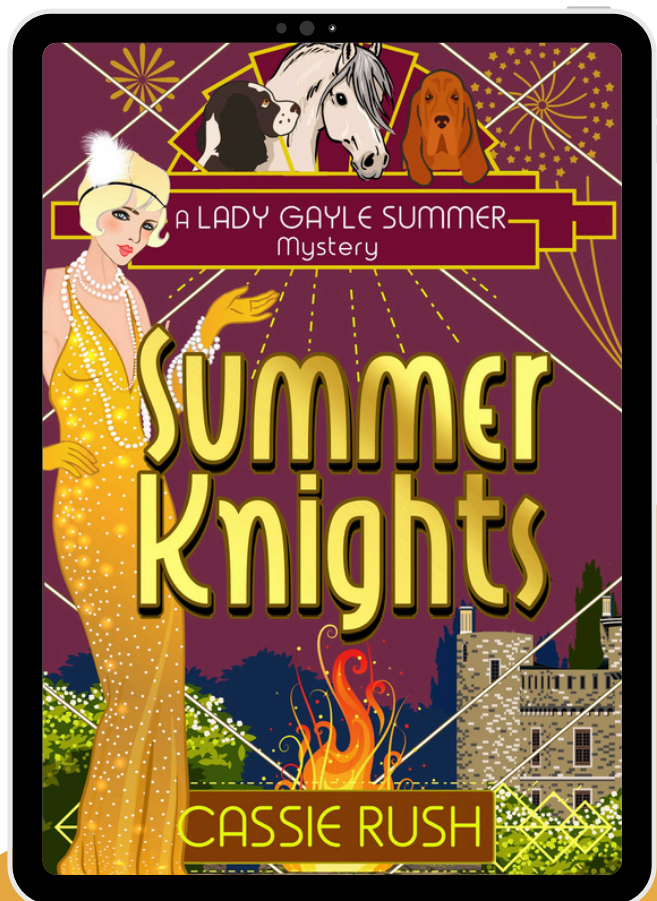

CASSIE RUSH

Lady Gayle Summer Mysteries

Sassy society sleuth Lady Gayle Summer wants to party—but murder never takes a holiday.

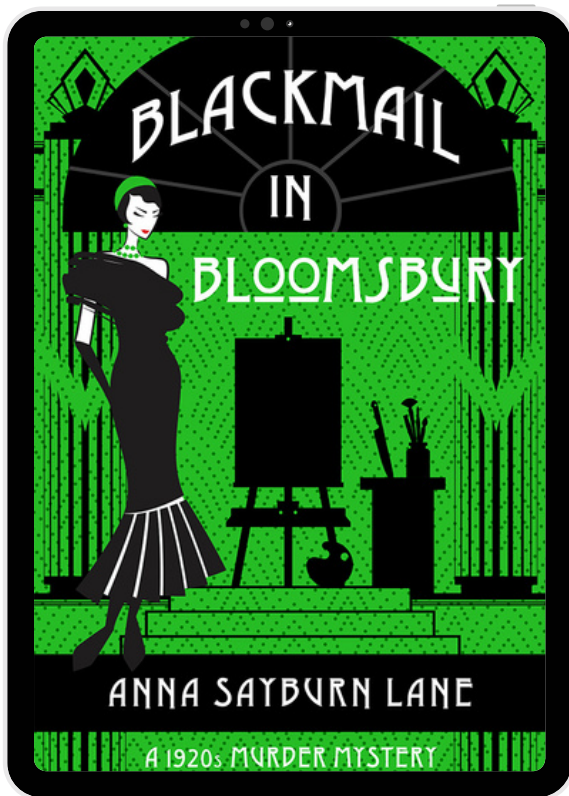

Determined to put 1922 behind her, Lady Gayle sets off for a New Year's gathering with old friends. Beneath her bright smile lies a tangle of regrets—and a reunion that promises more discomfort than cheer. But when the bonfire's glow reveals a naked corpse in the snow, celebration turns to shock. With gossip swirling and secrets simmering, Gayle and her maid Alice must unmask a killer before the dawn of the new year brings another death.

The second Lady Gayle Mystery—rich with wit, scandal, and 1920s charm.

BUY HERE

ANNA SAYBURN LANE

Everyone at the party had a secret.

Someone killed to keep theirs. When a bohemian party ends in murder, there's no shortage of suspects. Half of Bloomsbury wanted Mrs Norris dead – but who wielded the knife? When the police arrest the wrong man, apprentice sleuth Marjorie and her enigmatic boss Mrs Jameson vow to find the true killer.

From the garden squares of Bloomsbury to the seedy backstreets of Soho, they navigate the glamour and peril of Jazz Age London in a thrilling story of secrets and lies. Blackmail In Bloomsbury will keep you guessing to the very last page.

BUY HERE

Anna Sayburn Lane is inspired by history, London and long walks. She has published award-winning short stories and was picked as a “Crime in the Spotlight” new author at the 2019 Bloody Scotland International Crime Writing Festival. She lives between London and the Kent coast. Anna also works as a journalist.

ANNA SAYBURN LANE

Meet Marjorie Swallow. Draper's daughter Marjorie has emerged from the First World War determined to live life to the full. She's looking for independence, an interesting job, an up-to-date wardrobe and a bit of fun. A secretarial position with the enigmatic American lady detective, Mrs Iris Jameson, looks just the ticket.

Apprentice sleuth Marjorie is soon in the thick of it. Even her interview for the job, over afternoon tea at the Ritz hotel, involves solving a murder! From secrets in the garden squares of Bloomsbury to peril in the illegal late-night clubs of Soho, Marjorie learns the hard way who to trust.

The 1920s Mystery Series

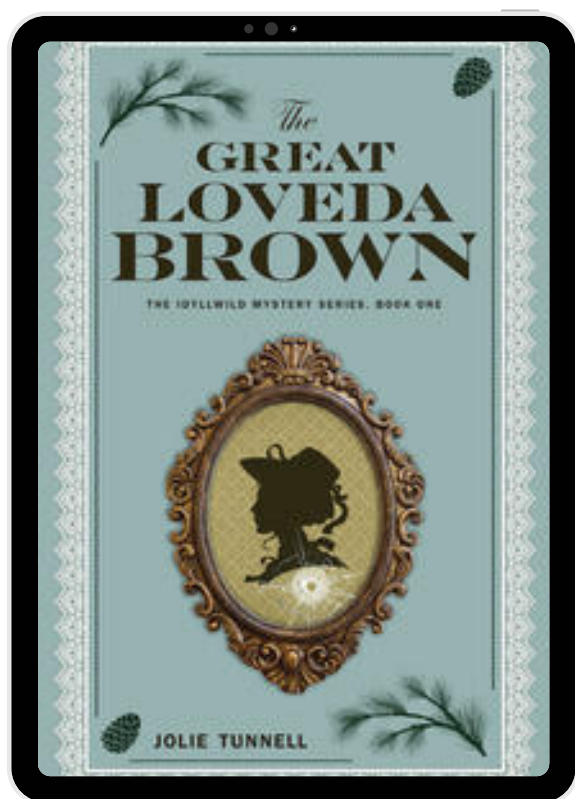

LEARN MORE

She may be quick-witted, but her naïvety can lead her into danger – unless she learns fast. Fortunately Mrs Jameson is at hand to impart her hard-won life lessons. There's one thing Mrs Jameson isn't telling her, though, and that's what happened in Rome...

This series, inspired by classic murder mysteries from the Golden Age of British crime writing, is sure to delight fans of Agatha Christie and Dorothy L Sayers.

JOLIE TUNNELL

Loveda Brown thinks she's running from her hot-tempered husband, but a hidden killer in the tiny town of Idyllwild has other plans for her. When Loveda Brown arrives in the tiny mountainside town of Idyllwild, California, as yet the Wild West of 1912, she is running from her husband. But when a body turns up the next day, she realizes she might have worse things following her... That cold, clenched fist holds something that forces Loveda to stay in Idyllwild and use all of her wits to stop another murder from happening.

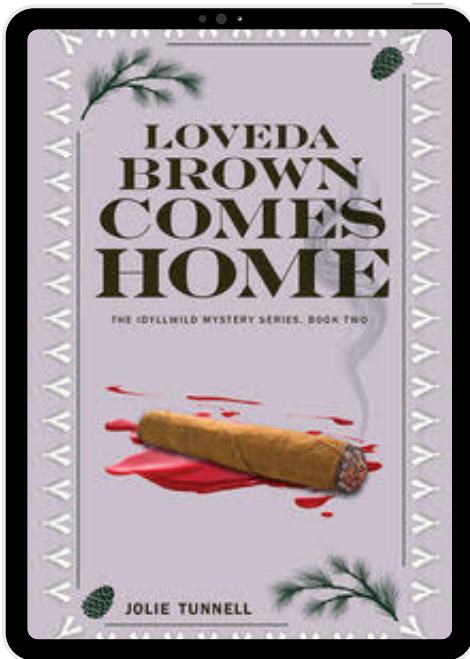

Probably her own.

BUY HERE

Shaking the nuts off my family tree inspired my writing career! I flavor my historical whodunnits with the turn-of-the-century Wild West and add a pinch of poppycock to keep you guessing, gasping, and galloping to the last page.

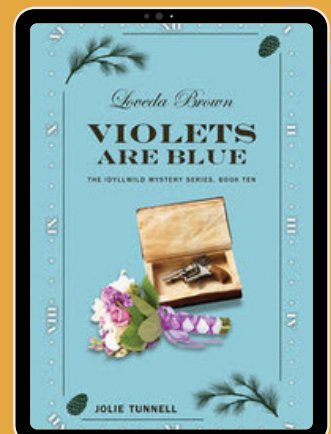

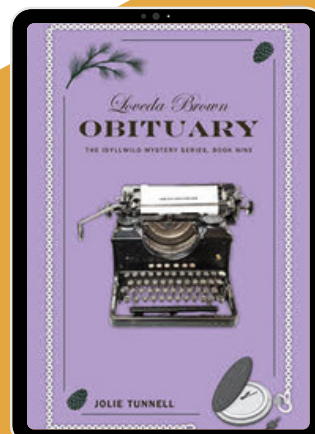

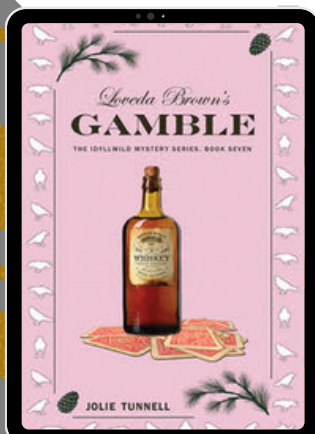

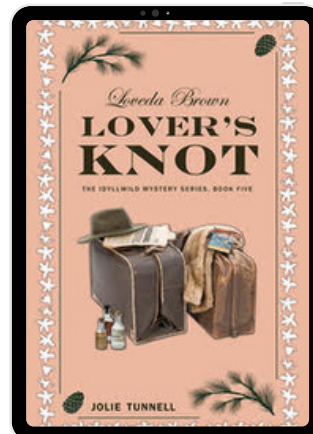

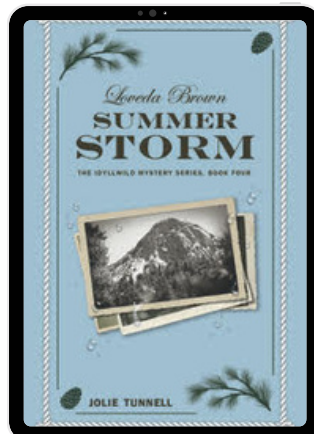

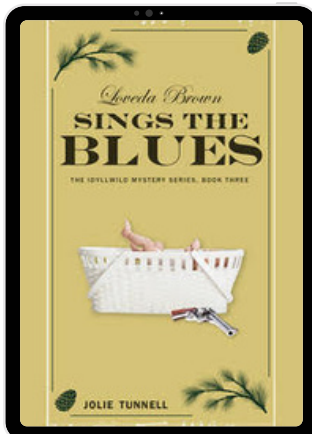

JOLIE TUNNELL

The Idyllwild Mystery Series

Cozy up with a cuppa and enjoy these mountaintop mysteries with a feisty small-town community, hidden villains, and the unsinkable Loveda Brown. A 1912 suspenseful series with heart available in ebook, paperback, and audiobook.

LEARN MORE

SARAH ZAMA

Chiara Campanelli has created her life with talent, hard work – and deceit. But she has buried that truth deep down and long ago. Nobody knows it now but the fiery eyes that look at her every time she looks into a mirror.

On 24 March 1921, Chiara is at the Teatro Diana in Milan when the bomb goes off. That explosion shakes her and her world so hard that it mercilessly lets the props of her life fall down, and Chiara comes naked to the rendezvous with that blazing gaze.

READ IT FREE

She worked in a bookshop and publishing house in Verona (Italy) for twenty years before going all in on her own business. She started writing stories at 9, always preferring fantasy and history-related tales. Since 2010, she's worked on her as-yet-unpublished trilogy set in 1926 Chicago, Ghost Trilogy of which Ghosts Through the Cracks is a prequel.

SARAH ZAMA

A Fairytale retelling set in 1920s Milan

Chicago, 1924. Jazz Age glamour hides a secret world where desire is magic—and freedom comes at a deadly price.

When Su Xie (Susie) arrives in Chicago, she believes she's found the freedom to live on her own terms. But after meeting Blood in Simon's speakeasy, Susie is drawn into the hidden spirit world where nothing is as it seems. Guided by Blood, she uncovers her deepest desires—and the golden cage Simon has built around her.

Now, Susie must decide: will she sacrifice Blood to win her own freedom, or remain trapped forever?

A historical fantasy novella set in Jazz Age Chicago, perfect for fans of magical realism and dark, atmospheric tales of freedom.

BUY HERE

[illegible]

Christmas GIFT TRACKER

[illegible]